PRODUCTION SITES

The order is assigned to one of our production sites located in: Italy, China, Pakistan, Bangladesh. Once the order has been taken over, the site will take care of the entire printing and garment manufacturing process.

PRINT

The graphics are created on the computer and applied to the patterns which are printed with a special plotter on a paper support capable of conveying the water-based sublimation inks.

TRANSFER

The printed paper is coupled to the fabric (exclusively polyester and nylon) by means of a calender: a cylinder heated to over 200°C activates the inks printed on the paper, which transfer to the fabric and bind to the fibres at a molecular level.

CUT

The printed fabric rolls are ready to be cut. It is possible to cut the panels by hand or with a laser cutting device: a camera detects the cutting margins and one or more CO2 lasers cut each piece with precision.

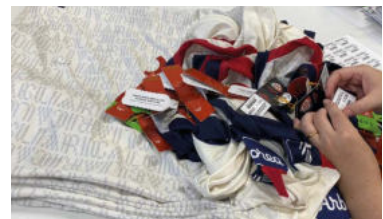

TAILORING

The garment is now ready for sewing. The panels and any accessories such as fabric labels, ribs, buttons, etc., are sewn together in the production lines with processes similar to an assembly line.

FINISHING

Once assembled, the garment is finished, passed through quality control and ironed. All the pieces that are not approved by the control are, if possible, put back on line to be corrected.

PACKING

The correctly completed garment is tagged, folded, bagged and sorted into the destination parcels. The logistics department manages the shipment from this moment on.

SITI PRODUTTIVI

L'ordine viene assegnato ad uno dei nostri siti produttivi situati in: Italia, Cina, Pakistan, Bangladesh. Preso in carico l'ordine, il sito si occuperà dell'intero processo di stampa e confezione dei capi.

STAMPA

La grafica viene creata al computer e applicata ai modelli che vengono stampati con uno speciale plotter su un supporto cartaceo in grado di trasferire gli inchiostri a sublimazione a base d'acqua.

TRASFERIMENTO

La carta stampata viene accoppiata al tessuto (esclusivamente poliestere e nylon) tramite una calandra: un cilindro riscaldato a oltre 200°C attiva gli inchiostri stampati sulla carta, che si trasferiscono sul tessuto e si legano alle fibre a livello molecolare.

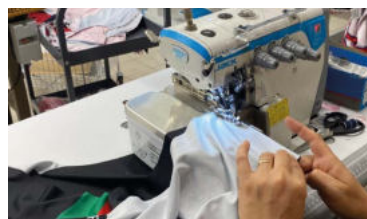

TAGLIO

I rotoli di tessuto stampato sono pronti per essere tagliati. È possibile tagliare i pannelli a mano o con un dispositivo di taglio laser: una telecamera rileva i margini di taglio e uno o più laser CO2 tagliano ogni pezzo con precisione.

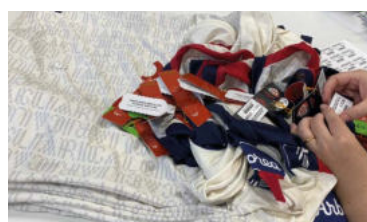

CONFEZIONE

Il capo è ora pronto per essere cucito. I pannelli e gli eventuali accessori, come etichette di tessuto, costine, bottoni, ecc. vengono cuciti insieme nelle linee di produzione con processi simili a quelli di una catena di montaggio.

FINISSAGGIO

Una volta assemblato, il capo viene rifinito, passato al controllo qualità e stirato. Tutti i pezzi non approvati dal controllo vengono, se possibile, rimessi in linea per essere corretti.

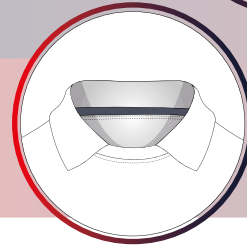

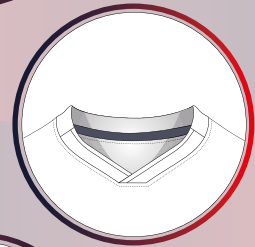

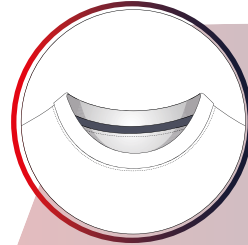

IMBALLAGGIO

L'indumento completato correttamente viene etichettato, piegato, imbustato e smistato nei pacchi di destinazione. Il reparto logistico gestisce la spedizione da questo momento in poi.
